We accompany you starting from the first idea, up to the next level of development until finally reaching the finished product, as a highly flexible and absolute reliable partner – just throughout the complete manufacturing process.

OUR INDUSTRY SECTORS

We are present in different kind of industries. A large part of our customers derive from the automotive industry. We produce parts for customers in various industries, such as measurement and control technology, medical technology, mechanical engineering, small appliances and electrical engineering. All in all, we are proudly offering almost one thousand different turning parts within our product portfolio.

HIGHEST QUALITY

You can trust in our quality. Clearly, our certifications according to the latest quality management standards and our regular and industry-specific audits prove this. But even more. We also use different procedures to permanently improve and optimize the quality of our products. One example is our high-precision roundness measuring devices, contour measuring devices, roughness measuring devices, measuring projectors, profile projectors as well as our laser micrometer with which we check and monitor specific parameters.

ABSOLUTE PRECISION

Highlights of our modern machineries are our cam-controlled and CNC-controlled multi-spindle machines and CNC machines with which we turn complex parts for the national and international market. We also offer and perform additional work like polygonal turning, broaching, tem deburring, drilling, milling or cylindrical grinding.

And for everything we cannot offer in-house, such as warm treatments or surface coatings, we have competent, proven partners on our side. For you, however, one thing is certain: everything is from one single source only - we are your contact person!
